SENIOR CLASS SONG

Now we as seniors, leave our dear old Townsville High
 And at our parting bid a fond "Goodbye."
 We have met each hardship with a friendly, cheery smile
 We have trudged the pathway, to the last-long mile.

Chorus:

Townsville, dear old High school
 Mem'ries fond will linger still.
 Classmates, dear old classmates
 Your love our hearts will fill.

Long have we cherished, lessons learned at your fair side, firmly held your standards, in life's rushing tide-
 glory to our High school- Honor fair become your name,
 Faith in all your students, "service to all"-Your aim.

Senior Prophecy

One evening as I was walking slowly along a country road, kicking up the dust as I went, my eyes fell upon a little bottle that had been carelessly cast aside.

For some inexplicable reason I walked toward it, and picked it up. To my surprise it was tightly corked and inside were some small bits of paper. There written in very small letters, so small that I could not read them with my naked eye, were some words which aroused my curiosity. I hurried home and quickly placed the bits under a microscope. To my amazement I could plainly see these words, "The Class Prophecy of the senior class of 1949 at T.H.S." Quickly I scanned the rest, my heart almost bursting with excitement. So this was our future; from whence had it come?

Immediately I sought out "Father Time", and asked if he knew its sources. His reply was "My child, you and your classmates have written your own future. I have only recorded it for you". "But why was it lying by the wayside?" I asked. "That I do not know," he replied, "but I must scold my workers for so carelessly handling such valuable records." Then without further delay, I began to read.

Patsy Ann Whitehouse fulfilled the dearest wish of her high school days. She became a nurse and now holds the position as superintendent of nurses in the new Henderson Hospital.

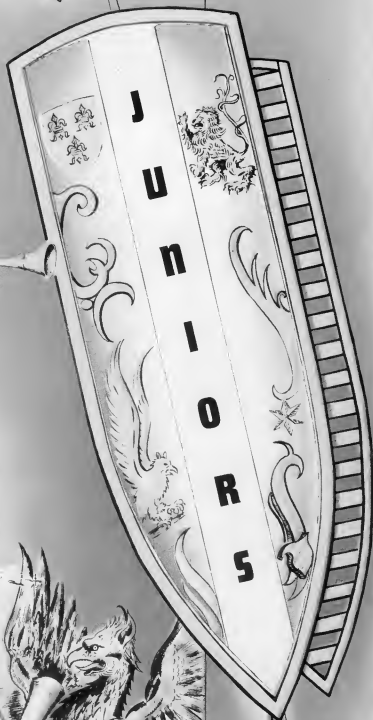

Jessie Shearin joined the Navy and after sailing the "seven seas" for several years, returned and is now operating a big hotel at Miami Beach.

Edda Morgan, not contented with her B.A. degree from Woman's College, continued her studies at Columbia University, receiving her Master's degree in Chemistry. She and her doctor husband, are now working with a group of scientists who hope soon to find the cause and cure for polio.

Charles Thaxton Keeton attended the University of North Carolina for four years, specializing in business administration, then he was sent to South America to manage a big manufacturing plant. He is married to his stenographer who is none other than Jo Ann Conley.

To my surprise, my future was just as the prophecy foretold. I, too, became a nurse. While on duty with a very wealthy old lady, I fell in love with her son, and he persuaded me to give up my career as a nurse. I am now living on a large estate, surrounded by luxury. My fondness for walking along country lanes led to my priceless discovery.
